GC assessments 'equalized'

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

For the first time in 22 years, the assessed value of every home and building in Granite City has been "equalized" and the new listing of the assessed valuation is being prepared for publication in the Press-Record in the near future, according to Von Dee Cruse, assessor of Granite City Township (the city and the township share identical boundaries).

"People in some houses, say the 15-year-old frame homes in Bellemore and other areas, have been paying more than their share of the (property) taxes, because there has not been a complete reassessment of the city for 22 years," Cruse said, noting his office has just completed such a massive reassessment and has submitted the new figures to Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton.

"It also was unfair in that there could be two identical houses, side-by-side, and the one which was kept neat and in good repair by its owner would be assessed higher than the one allowed to deteriorate.

"We were punishing people for fixing up their homes or keeping them in good condition. A good example is the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society. They have put their money into repairing older homes, only to see their taxes go up, and that just wasn't fair," the assessor added.

Under the reassessment, many assessments were reduced. "If market values in your area have not risen as much as in other areas, or if your property is overvalued when compared with similar properties, your share will reduce proportionately," Cruse explained.

Under the new method, assessments were based upon the quality of the

Dedicate overpass in ceremony here

"We dedicate this overpass to the physical putting together of our community, spiritually and socially," Randall Robertson, the main speaker, said Friday as he officially dedicated the overpass under construction on 19th Street between West Granite and the downtown.

Approximately 150 persons gathered at Triangle Park to hear the dedication address, which were followed by a reception in the Moose Lodge 272.

The temperature at the dedication was in the low 50s, but that was not why Mayor Paul Schuler admitted to the audience that he was shaking. "I was shaking from the cold. It is the kind of shaking that comes from inside."

Schuler later said of his excitement. During the ceremony, he told the gathering, "We have waited a long, long time for this and we are glad to see it come to fruition."

"So many people had a part. It is impossible to recognize everyone," Schuler added. He then introduced Robertson, a local attorney and longtime resident of Granite City, who offered the dedication.

"Many years ago, Louie Cohen (owner of Cohen's Grocery in West Granite) and I were on a committee to try and get an overpass. We met a great deal of frustration because there were just no public funds available."

"Fortunately, government agencies now have the staffs which recognize those types of problems and have the funds with which they can give help," he said.

He recalled some of the many obstacles Granite City has overcome in its history, including the flood of 1903 which resulted in flood controls here, and the lack of sanitary and storm-water sewers in the early years which led Granite City to be one of the first cities in the nation to complete sewers with union labor, at a time when most improvements were done with WPA labor.

He recalled problems with streets, which finally were paved or blacktopped. "All of these adversities we have overcome. The one left is five rail lines which divide our city," he told the audience.

He noted the railroads have played an important part in the growth of Granite City and were included in the original plans for the city, but somewhere along the line, West Granite grew too big not to have proper access to the downtown area.

"Louie Cohen once told me six years of his life have been spent waiting for trains," the speaker said.

"We are going to eliminate one of the most severe problems in our city. There were many instances when fire trucks

Madison man guilty in fatal stabbing

Stanley D. Wells, 18, of the 1900 block of Fourth Street, Madison, has been found guilty by a jury in Madison County Circuit Court of armed violence and involuntary manslaughter in connection with the Aug. 8 fatal stabbing of Edward M. Stern, 17, of 1902 Fifth St., Madison. The verdict was reached Thursday.

Mr. Stern was fatally stabbed in the chest with a large knife during an apparent argument involving several youths in the 1900 block of Fourth Street in the early morning hours.

Evidence during the trial included videotaped statements by Wells taken the morning of the stabbing, in which he allegedly admitted taking a butcher knife from his home for protection after having had an earlier argument with Mr. Stern, who resided across an alley from Wells.

Defense Attorney Lawrence O. Willbrand of St. Louis contended that the stabbing occurred incidentally while Wells was attempting to defend himself during the argument.

The jury of four men and eight women heard three days of testimony and deliberated nearly five hours before finding Wells innocent of murder and involuntary manslaughter, but guilty of involuntary manslaughter and armed violence.

A presentence investigation will be conducted before Wells is sentenced.

State agency wants to expand power rate case

The Illinois Office of Consumer Services (OCS), an intervenor in Illinois Power Company's current electricity rate proceeding, during the weekend assailed IP's announcement of a $1.73 billion construction budget and a nine-month slip in the fuel load date for the Clinton nuclear power plant construction project to January 1983. It urged broadening of the current rate hike request investigation.

Dr. Alvin K. Grandys, director of OCS, said, "This indicates that OCS' expectations of further cost overruns were correct last year. Unfortunately, this is bad news for all consumers who will pay for these cost overruns."

"Such announcements represent the promise of future higher costs of doing business and a higher cost of living for all in IP's service territory."

Grandys added, "The company's plan to recover lost time in construction has never been feasible. Illinois Power Company's management has not demonstrated its ability to alter the trend toward higher costs which we have observed for the past five years."

"Therefore, we fully expect that Clinton Unit 1 will come into service in late 1985 at a cost of at least $2 billion."

He called on the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) to consolidate IP's construction investigation (Docket No. 80-0167) and the current rate case.

"It would be inappropriate to separate the driving factor of IP's rate request, its construction program, away from IP's pending rate request," he said.

To date, the ICC has not ruled on OCS' motion to consolidate these hearings, filed late last month.

Grandys said the Office of Consumer Services, which is a division within the office of the governor, will continue to

DEDICATION ADDRESS for the 19th Street overpass is given Friday morning by Randall Robertson, at podium, during ceremonies at Triangle Park in West Granite City. The importance of the linkage of the downtown and West Granite areas was stressed as well as delay-free access to these areas by emergency vehicles. Distinguished guests at the ceremony from the left, included: Dale Klorh, District 8 engineer, Illinois Department of Transportation; the Rev. Dr. Thurnace York who gave the benediction; and Ted Noble and Tom Studebaker representing Millstone Construction, general contractors for the overpass project. A reception was held following the dedication at Moose Lodge 272.

Madison school tax rate cut

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The Madison school tax levy passed by the Madison Board of Education Thursday evening may mean a reduction of 25 cents on each $100 assessed valuation for the 1980-81 school year.

The present tax rate in Madison School District 12 is $3.33.

A school spokesman said the reasons for the possible reduction are that last year in some areas the estimate was high, based on the projected assessed valuation, and that they feel the assessment has stabilized.

Assessed valuation is an official estimate of the value of property as a basis for taxation and is subject to change.

The tax levy for 1980-81 has been reduced $211,600, from $684,800 for 1979-80 to $473,200 for 1980-81.

Following is a comparison of amounts levied with the current 1979-80 figure first, followed by the 1980-81 figure:

Educational $400,000-$260,000, down $140,000; operations, buildings and maintenance $93,000-$60,000, down $33,000; transportation $30,000-$19,200, down $10,800; Illinois municipal retirement $56,800-$46,000, down $10,800;

Fire prevention, safety, environmental and energy conservation $8,000-$8,000 same; tort immunity

Christmas party attracts 500

The Granite City Township Hall was filled Saturday morning by more than 350 well-behaved children and nearly 150 adults for "Breakfast With Santa" presented by the Granite City Junior Service Club.

The children were served milk and donuts and enjoyed a stage show at 9:30 a.m., with Santa arriving at 10:15 a.m. The children all got to talk to Santa, have their picture taken with him and receive a special treat.

Proceeds from the event will go to help needy people in Granite City. Mrs. Brenda Weckman was the chairman of the event and Mrs. Faith Holsinger is the president of the GC Junior Service Club.

The club officials said they would hold the event again next year, since it was so successful. They also expressed regret that they had to turn several people away.

BREAKFAST WITH SANTA was a reality for 4-year-old Channa Weckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Ruth) Weckman, 3018 Pontoon Road, and about 350 other children and more than 150 adults Saturday morning. The event was the first annual Breakfast with Santa sponsored by the Granite City Junior Service Club.

Committee to study state pension funds

Governor James R. Thompson has proposed a study commission to review the policies and practices of the state's public employee pension funds and to determine whether they should be used for economic development.

In a speech before the annual neighborhood awards luncheon of Trust, Inc., Governor Thompson said he would name the commission membership by Jan. 1, 1981. The group will be called the Illinois Study Commission on Public Pension Investment Policies and will begin its review as soon after the first of the year as possible, the governor said.

The governor noted that the five state-financed retirement systems had a combined total of over $1.8 billion in invested assets as of June 30, 1979. The five retirement systems cover state employees, the General Assembly, judges, teachers and university employees.

The governor said that four other states have already undertaken such studies or have adopted changes in their investment policies.

Change of personnel caused by fireman's resignation

A realignment of manpower in the Granite City Fire Department, necessitated by the resignation of Engineer Junior C. Mathis, 54 Villa Drive, was approved by the Granite City Council last week.

Mathis, who is leaving to accept other employment, has been a fireman here for 10 years. In his resignation letter, he said, "I assure you that being a part of this great organization has been both a joy and a privilege."

The resignation was accepted by the council with regrets.

At the recommendation of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, the council then approved the promotion of Pipeman Donald Hayes to engineer and the hiring of Matthew M. Gasparovic, 9 Nassau St., as a probationary fireman.

Degree in accountancy

Two new degree programs at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were approved Tuesday by the Illinois Board of Higher Education, meeting in Chicago.

Approved were: the bachelor of science with a major in accounting, and the master of science in education, with a specialization in elementary education at Greenville College for a period of three years.

The university presently offers the bachelor degree in business administration with a specialization in accounting. The specialization will be upgraded to a degree program level, and will continue to prepare students for entry level positions in business and government. Graduates of the program will be eligible to take the certified public accountant examination. Approximately 425 majors are expected in the program by 1985.

According to surveys conducted by the SIUE School of Education, many teachers in the Greenville-Vandalia area do not have master's degrees and would like to pursue the MS in education program at the Greenville site.

Greenville College will provide facilities for classes, library support and some faculty support, but most of the courses will be taught by SIUE faculty as part of their regular assignments.

University officers expect approximately 25 students in the master's program by the third and final year it is offered. No additional state resources will be required for the new programs, according to the IBHE.

4 charged with theft

Three young men from Venice and a Granite City man have been charged with theft for allegedly removing scrap iron from the lot of Paul Seebold Concrete, 22nd Street and the railroad tracks, at 1:50 p.m. Monday.

Seebold said he looked outside and saw four men alight from an old green pickup truck and begin loading scrap iron onto the truck.

He yelled at them and the four jumped in the truck and left south along the railroad tracks, he told police.

Officers located the car near where 10th Street would intersect the tracks and arrested the four inside, who were identified by Seebold as being the ones who were seen taking the scrap. Seebold also identified scrap iron in the truck as having been taken from his yard.

Charged were Mark A. Arrigo, 17, of 1210a Oriole St., Venice, John Allen Sanders, 18, and Richard L. Sanders, 23, both of 122 Kerr St., Venice, and Larry G. Kampmann, 20, of 1701 Edison Ave. They were released on $35 cash bonds.

Lawsuit threatens overpass

A lawsuit filed by Moose Lodge 272 against Granite City could have "serious overtones," Mayor Paul Schuler told the Granite City Council Tuesday night, in that any court order or restraining order issued could stop construction of the 19th Street overpass.

A summons for city officials to appear in court at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 9, for a preliminary hearing on the lawsuit was read at the council meeting by City Clerk Robert W. Stevens.

According to Schuler, the suit alleges that the city has caused the Moose Lodge inconvenience during construction of the overpass. It also alleges that there has been some damage to the building during the construction.

Schuler advised the council to refer the issue to the city attorney and commented, "I think they are trying to get us to buy it (the Moose building). I think this is serious. If an injunction is granted, they could stop construction of the overpass, and that is very serious."

Several aldermen indicated they wished to discuss the issue further on the council floor, but Schuler halted the discussion, saying he did not feel that pending litigation against the city should be discussed publicly before a court hearing.

A faulty hot wire heater is suspected of starting a fire which caused $11,000 damage to the mobile home of George McDaniel, 1727 Olive Street, last week. Firemen were on the scene two hours. Damage was estimated at $6,000 to the mobile home and $5,000 to its contents.

Nine-month incarceration has been ordered by Circuit Judge A. A. Mateosian for Christopher S. Jackson, 17, of 1634 Second St., Madison, who was charged by a sheriff department with a Sept. 25 theft.

It was alleged that paneling was torn from the wall of a McCambridge Avenue auto body shop and that a car was driven away, later being found in the 300 block of Highland Avenue, Madison.

neighborhood, the size of the house and the kind of construction to determine the actual value (what the house would sell for on the open market).

The same house could have a vastly different selling price if it was located in West Granite or North Granite or Bellemeor or Parkview, so the quality of the neighborhood had to be taken into account, Cruse said.

Once each neighborhood was defined and rated, the five professional and certified appraisers who work for Cruse used state-set cost factors for the various kinds of residential and commercial buildings, utilizing exact size, design and construction data to mathematically arrive at valuations, he added.

There are approximately 13,000 parcels of real estate in the city and each has been re-evaluated, using this mathematical method, he said. Citizens were invited to Cruse's office on specified days and nights to review their assessments and find out how the figures were determined.

"We wanted people to tell us we were wrong and challenge us. We are not perfect and we wanted our mistakes corrected immediately," Cruse said.

Now the reassessment and citizen review have been completed and the revised books are being prepared by Barton for legal publication. "Some people are going to be surprised when they see their home reassessed in the newspaper and I want everyone to be aware that we have equalized valuations, so everyone will be paying his fair share of taxes," Cruse said.

He explained that "constantly changing economic conditions" have caused inequities to develop in home assessments during the past 22 years. "Neighborhoods, for example, have changed and newer homes are valued at a later date than older ones. The changing economic climate in the community means that some property is undervalued and some is overvalued," Cruse said.

Equalization by reassessing each property according to the current fair market value was the fairest way to see that each homeowner and building owner pays his fair share of the taxes, he added.

Properties which show large increases in assessment in the new list probably have not been reassessed in 10 or 20 years, Cruse said, but an increase in the assessment will not mean an automatic increase in taxes.

"In fact, your share of taxes might not change at all, even with inflation. What you have to remember is that your property will be compared with other properties. Inflation affects just about everybody, so most of these values will be way up too," he said.

Anyone disagreeing with the reassessed value of their properties will be able to challenge the assessment. "If you believe your value is too high, you should be able to support your argument, for example by showing that the new values for similar properties in your area are lower than yours," the assessor explained.

He added, "Let's be fair. If you receive a large increase in your tax bill and your assessment is correct, then you have not been paying your fair share of taxes in the past."

"That means that somebody else has been contributing unfairly to your share of taxes. If anybody has the right to complain, it is the other property owners who have had to make up your share," Cruse continued.

Persons protesting their new assessments, when announced, should contact Cruse's office and a member of the staff will explain the assessment, detailing how the values were determined.

State agency

seek rates for IP customers which "feature reliable service at reasonable costs," while pursuing the issues of management and cost overruns associated with the Clinton construction project. "The public expects and honestly demands that the root causes of rising utility bills be addressed in IP's current rate proceeding."

"It will make an adjustment, if you show that an error has been made in describing your property, that significantly affects its value. If there is a significant difference between the data on your property record card and the state of your property, the assessor can schedule another on-site inspection and review of your property."

"In some cases, where the person appealing presents factual evidence, an adjustment can be made without inspection and review," according to Cruse.

If property owners are not satisfied with the results of such a conference, they have the opportunity to ask for a formal hearing before the Madison County Board of Assessment Review. Homeowners may present their own cases and show any evidence relative to the value of their homes at that hearing. The Board of Review then may adjust the assessment.

If still dissatisfied, homeowners may then appeal to the Illinois State Board of Appeals. The final step, if all appeals are unsuccessful, would be for property owners to file suit in the courts, protesting the assessment.

"Your local government encourages you to appeal, if you sincerely question your assessment. There will be no penalties or disadvantages to anyone who appeals," Cruse said.

"The government desires to see that all taxpayers are satisfied within the legal limits set by the state, and at the same time, to see that everyone is on a fair share basis."

"In the great majority of cases, when an assessor finds the taxpayer is right, an adjustment is made immediately. After all, the assessor would rather see that each property owner is satisfied, than have a duty to all taxpayers to be fair and to work within the guidelines of the law," Cruse concluded.

"It is OCS' intention to continue to present testimony on cost controls and incentives to hold down rising construction costs, for IP," he concluded.

Trash energy plan to help local area

Two trash-to-energy facilities to be developed by the Bi-State Development Agency in St. Louis and south St. Louis county will help the Illinois area by easing overall pressure on trash disposal capacity in this metropolitan area.

Granite City Rotarians were told last week. John Booth, development director for the agency, said landfill space is being exhausted and the St. Louis incinerator is old and inefficient. Environmental Protection Agency requirements.

Goal of current planning is to resolve the disposal problem in a way that is self-supporting, Booth related. Plans produced at the city plant and fuel created at the county facility will be purchased by the Union Electric Co.

A Chouteau Island landfill remains in active use but it, like all other sites in the bi-state area, potentially will run out of room within the next few years, Booth said. He was introduced by Carl E. Mathias, a member of the Bi-State board.

Rotary President George Moore presided and it was announced that Rotarians will collect contributions for the Salvation Army Tree of Lights Drive Friday evening, Dec. 12. It was noted that A. H. Froemling was recuperating from surgery at the Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Rotary-Anns will attend a Christmas luncheon of the club Dec. 16.

Construction bids for gym at university

Governor James R. Thompson has authorized the Bureau of the Budget to release funds to the Capital Development Board for construction of the new multi-purpose building at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in the amount of $11,030,000, Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, announced this week.

Bids of sub-contractors are scheduled to be opened in Springfield at 2 p.m. Dec. 16, and of general contractors on Dec. 19.

"Gov. Thompson has already made my Christmas," the senator remarked. "Fourteen long winters have gone by since I began work on this project, and you can bet I am greeting the bid opening with the highest satisfaction."

"I can't imagine a better way for the governor to send his good wishes to the university and the citizens of this region than by what he has done this week in releasing this substantial amount of money. All of us owe him a real debt of gratitude. From the first moment I began to discuss this project with him, he kept his word to the letter."

"Of course, a project of this size represents the efforts of my colleagues in the General Assembly along with many enlightened citizens who joined together to provide a long overdue facility for physical education, recreation, and collegiate athletics."

"One would have to start with all the officials at SIUE, up to and including President Earl Lazerson, for persistently and effectively asserting the case for this desperately needed building," Vadalabene added.

"The support of SIUE Chancellor Kenneth Shaw and the Board of Trustees was also crucial in persuading those responsible for appropriating and approving this money of the importance of the project. "Students at SIUE should also get their share of the credit, since they have a major investment of funds in the building generated by student fees—in this project."

"Because all of these concerned parties, in concert with leading civic, labor and business leaders, were able to make the message ring clearly and clear, we can soon look forward to groundbreaking ceremonies."

Vadalabene continued. "We all have a great deal to be thankful for in this holiday season. The chill days of winter and the sweltering times of summer in the 'bubble gym' will soon be behind us. SIUE will now no longer be the only public institution of higher education in Illinois lacking such a facility."

Governor and Mrs. James R. Thompson and their daughter, Samantha, lighted a 15-foot Christmas tree decorated to honor the American hostages being held captive in Iran in a public ceremony Thursday evening at the Executive Mansion, Springfield.

The tree is a Colorado green spruce decorated with 125 yellow ribbons to honor the hostages. The public tendered the ceremony and Christmas carols were sung around the tree.

License plate stickers due

Green, 1981 license plate stickers should be displayed on all passenger cars, motorcycles and mopeds by Dec. 31, Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon has reminded Illinois motorists.

"Some motorists already may be driving on expired registrations, since most passenger cars were renewed for 1981 by the end of November," Dixon said. "Exceptions are company-owned and leased vehicles, along with motorcycles and mopeds, which have a Dec. 31 expiration."

"Green stickers must be displayed by midnight on the deadline day, as the law no longer allows the secretary of state to grant any extensions."

"If your sticker has expired, you must obtain a green sticker at the secretary of state's office in Springfield or one of the motor vehicle facilities in Chicago."

"If you do not have a pre-printed renewal application, call our toll-free telephone number (800-262-8880) and we'll send you one," Dixon said.

Green stickers will be on all vehicles until March 1, 1981, when the first of the brown, 1982 stickers will begin appearing on cars with plates having March 31 expiration date.

Pre-purchases for cars with registrations due in March will be in the mail the first of February. All motorists are given 60 days to purchase their stickers.

Indecency charged

Paul T. Conrod, 21, of 3161 Jill Ave., was arrested at his home at 4:35 p.m. Sunday and was charged with public indecency and assault. It is alleged he had been standing nude in the front door of his home earlier Sunday. One young woman said she saw him in the doorway and she ran to a friend's house. Later, when she passed Conrod's home again, he allegedly chased her and her 19-year-old girl friend. Police alleged that Conrod has a previous history of arrests for similar indecencies, both in Granite City and in another county.

Agree on Gateway priorities

At its regular monthly meeting, the board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council last week unanimously adopted a "Spirit '80s" Metropolitan Agenda.

By endorsing the Spirit '80s program, the board announced regional agreement on the major capital improvement projects to be developed during the 1980s. The board's action follows six months of active public involvement to determine interest, and support for the projects among government, business and labor, and civic organizations throughout the metropolitan area.

The project areas include: downtown bridge improvements, energy development and conservation projects, port development, public transit improvements, railroad restructuring and riverfront redevelopment, and river recreation improvements. The board also recommended target objectives for each of the six project areas, and also recommended the appointment of a special advisory committee to assist the board in promoting the implementation of these target objectives.

DEAN'S HONORS LIST. Mary P. Klyasheff, 18 Devon Hill Lane, Granite City, Ill., made the dean's honors list during the last academic year at Washington University, St. Louis. It was announced Friday. A sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, she was honored at an assembly at the university this fall.

could not get across the tracks to fires. Ambulances have been blocked, in some instances resulting in death," he contended. "We are going to solve that problem," he added, noting that city officials were able to use such tragedies to help convince the Department of Transportation that a grant was urgently needed for an overpass here.

"The overpass will make the rest of the city available to the Tri-City Regional Port. St. Louis will be more accessible to us all. Anyone who has been rushing to Lambert Airport to catch a plane and has been blocked by a train can tell you how important that is," he added.

Robertson paid tribute to the Illinois DOT, its local division, the Illinois Commerce Commission, National Steel Corp. and the railroads, all of which aided in financing the new overpass. "Thanks to the mayor and the city councils, past and present. Without that determination and dedication, we would be without this project," Robertson said.

Mayor Schuler presented memorial plaques to Robertson and Mrs. Marge Nomm, honoring Robertson's late father, Mickey Robertson, and Mrs. Nomm's late husband, former alderman Walter Nomm, for the work they had done toward building the overpass.

On the speaker's stand with Robertson, Schuler and Mrs. Nomm were Tom Studebaker and Ted Noble of Millstone Construction, contractor for the overpass; Dale Klorer, district engineer for DOT; Aaron Pierson of M.W. Engineers and Architects, designer of the overpass; Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer; Cohen; City Clerk Robert W. Stevens, and City Treasurer Nick Petrillo.

Also seated on the stage were Aldermen Mack Warfield, Earl Baker, Margaret Nomm, Lloyd Bailey, Roy Paulos and Everett Morley. Special recognition also was given to former aldermen Steve Basarich, Curtis Blevins, Claude Green, William Dallas Sr., Frank Greenwald, Gerald Parmley, Clyde Bohl, Ronald Coleman and Emerald Dawes, for their part in making the overpass possible.

The Rev. C. Dale Edwards delivered the invocation at Mrs. June Branding sang the National Anthem, accompanied by the Granite City High School South Band. South's Pom Pom Squad also entertained before the ceremony.

Dr. Thurnace York of Tri-City Park Tabernacle closed the ceremony with the benediction, in which he said to the Lord, "You created us to do the impossible. We are not just dedicating a piece of stone, a piece of concrete or a piece of steel. We are dedicating a monument which will be here for years to come, long after we are gone."

For those unable to attend the dedication, Southwest Cable TV will show it daily at 1 and 7 p.m. for about a week, beginning Wednesday.

The opening of bids for a new truck was tabled until the Wednesday, Dec. 10 meeting, due to that fact the date for receipt of bids was listed for Dec. 5. The board then reviewed drawings for an athletic field layout at the middle school. The field will have a track, tennis courts and a baseball field.

It was felt that a fire hydrant should be moved from the athletic field area closer to the school building.

The board also felt that a fence should be put up around the field to increase the protection of the students playing on the field and also to reduce possible vandalism.

Board Member Paul Bargiel submitted his resignation from the special education board, due to a time problem.

Dymas said, "Paul, you have done a wonderful job, helping in the special education board and we want to thank you for it. We will discuss your replacement at our next meeting."

A report was given on American Education Week by Superintendent John Palchek who said, "I feel the programs in the various schools were outstanding. One fact that really speaks well for our community is that in the lower grades over 50 percent of the parents participated."

The board cancelled its first meeting in January, which would fall on Thursday, Jan. 1, 1981.

BAC productivity, pay hikes approved

Belleville Area College faculty members by a 76-4 vote today approved a new three-year agreement. It is expected to be ratified by the Board of Trustees at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Pay will be increased 10 percent plus annual increments, estimated at a total of 11.5 percent, in each of the 1980-81 and 1981-82 years. There is a salary reopener clause for the 1982-83 year.

Productivity increases for portions of the faculty are included in the new agreement. This issue was regarded as chiefly responsible for an 18-day strike this fall by some of the teachers.

English teachers will have five sections to teach rather than four, as of January 1983, and at that time those who teach laboratory classes also will accept a heavier workload.

Starting in the spring of 1982, counselors and librarians will add two and a half hours of work per week in each semester, reaching a 40-hour workweek in the fall of 1982.

Terms of the agreement were worked out in marathon negotiations that ended at 4 a.m. Dec. 4.

Donald Libby was chairman of the faculty bargaining team. Bruce Wissore is interim president of the college, whose territory includes the local community.

Ruling on right to union agent at local plant

A National Labor Relations Board administrative law judge, Thomas A. Ricci, has ordered Taracorp Industries, Granite City, not to deprive any employee of his right to union representation at any investigatory interview which the employee reasonably believes might result in disciplinary action.

Fred Elmore is to be reinstated without loss of seniority, rights and earnings.

Testimony showed that he declined to help others restore the operation of a moving belt carrying used batteries, and that the company denied his request to have his Steelworkers Local 6496 agent present at the start of a subsequent interview.

OFFICE BURGLARY

The State Farm Insurance office of Ray Morgan, agent, 1506 Johnson Road was burglarized between 5:30 p.m. Friday and 6 a.m. Saturday. Entry was gained through a window of the offices of Schaefer and Associates, located in the same building. The insurance office desks were ransacked and $150 in cash, along with a portable television with a five-inch screen and built-in AM-FM radio, valued at $179, was taken.

$4,500 FIRE DAMAGE

A cigarette is believed to have started a fire which caused an estimated $4,500 damage to a bedroom at the home of Gloria Hutchinson, 2629 E. 25th St., at 1:35 p.m. Sunday. The fire was restricted to the bedroom of the one-story frame house. Granite City firemen were on the scene 25 minutes. Damage to the building was estimated at $2,500 and another $2,000 damage was done to the contents, according to fire reports.

Help needed for Italian quake area

As reports of devastation from the earthquake in Southern Italy mount, the American Red Cross has launched a formal appeal for funds to assist the Italian Red Cross with its mammoth undertaking to assist an estimated 200,000 people affected by the disaster, according to Miss Gwendal O'Guin, director of the Tri-Cities Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Reports from the League of Red Cross Societies in Geneva, Switzerland, painted a harrowing picture of the situation with victims still crying for help beneath the rubble, contaminated water and lack of food, shelter and blankets, she said.

Heavy rains and snow in Southern Italy continued this past weekend, causing further suffering and hindering movement of relief supplies and workers in the area.

Military authority has sent six large helicopters and 1,000 tents to the quake area. Many small villages have not yet been visited due to bad flying weather and roads being destroyed, Miss O'Guin said.

The League of Red Cross Societies said the real need now is to raise funds for purchase of specific supplies and medicine readily available in Europe. These supplies are needed for use in the 113 commune quarters, each serving the needs of two or three affected villages. The number of dead and injured is estimated to be more than 11,000.

Welfare inquiries by individuals in our community who have relatives in the quake area may contact the Italian Embassy, Washington, D.C. Phone numbers are: 202-328-5559 or 5560.

Financial help is needed. All funds received by Red Cross Chapters will be transmitted to the Italian Red Cross Society through National Headquarters. Those individuals in our community who wish to assist may make checks payable to American Red Cross-Italian Earthquake and mail to: Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross, 3700 Nameoki Road, Granite City, IL 62040. These checks in turn will be mailed promptly to National Headquarters for the Italian Red Cross, she added.

Venice sues Ill. Terminal

The City of Venice, represented by City Attorney Lawrence Hartman, has filed a $15,000 Circuit Court suit against the Illinois Terminal Railroad Co., citing an Oct. 14, 1958, agreement under which the railroad replaced deteriorated ties on either side of the Erie, and that the work caused a severe deflection in the bridge deck, necessitating repairs by the city.

It is contended that Ill. Terminal is obligated to pay for any repairs caused by its maintenance work, but that it has declined to reimburse Venice.

'Give-a-Can' drive Saturday

The Lions Club of Pontoon Beach announced last week that it will conduct its fifth annual "Give-a-Can" drive on Saturday, Dec. 13, beginning at noon.

The Lions, who will be assisted by their ladies auxiliary Lioness Club, will go door to door throughout the village collecting canned goods which will be distributed to needy families at Christmas.

After the canned goods are collected by the Lions and Lionesses, it will be turned over to the United Way Community Service Center (Co-ordinated Youth Services) office in Pontoon Beach.

The United Way CYS office will then distribute the goods to the local needy families in the Pontoon Beach and Nameoki Township area.

Last year the Lions collected over 1,000 cans and the United Way CYS office distributed food, clothes and toys for over 30 local area families.

The Lions and Lionesses will begin their Saturday door to door drive at noon beginning in Lakeview Estates, then going to Quiet Valley, John Glenn Meadows, Village Green Mobile Home Park and ending in Gaslight Walk Apartments.

Lion Director Phil Vaughn, the 1980 Give-a-Can chairman, noted that "assistance begins at home, and the goal of this service project is to help those in the Pontoon Beach and surrounding Nameoki Township area have a brighter and happier Christmas holiday."

"Persons interested in obtaining information on Christmas baskets for themselves or would like to recommend a family in need may call the United Way CYS in Pontoon Beach at 831-2700, Monday through Friday," said Chairman Vaughn.

All information received is kept on a confidential basis, and applications are limited to Pontoon Beach-Nameoki Township area residents.

Fairmount to aid Salvation Army drive

Fairmount Park, horse race track in Collinsville, will offer free admission Dec. 16 through Dec. 19 to anyone donating an item of canned goods to the Christmas campaign.

Roger Smith, Fairmount assistant general manager, said the Salvation Army will use the canned goods at its Granite City and Collinsville corps centers, as well as at Camp Minkus, a fresh air camp for needy children at Bourbon, Mo.

East St. Louis Lodge 4, Caseyville, has volunteered to handle the collections at the park each evening prior to the races. Coca-Cola will donate a coupon redeemable for a 40-cent bottle to anyone participating in the canned goods program.

Park to seek bids on playground rides

The Granite City Park Board has authorized Harold Brown, director of parks and recreation, to advertise for bids for playground equipment to be placed in the West Granite Park.

The equipment would be part of a $79,000 improvement project for that park. Work is to begin in the spring. Bids are to be sought on a tornadoslide, a trailblazer slide, two whips, a large swing set, rocking animal chairs and a pony swing.

In other business, on a 3-2 vote, the park board rejected a motion to keep a minimum of $100,000 in reserve, in case of emergencies. Commissioner Jack Hood, who made the motion, said he feels that sum should be kept in the next budget and in future budgets, since it is very difficult to get voters to approve any kind of tax increase or bond issue during the current recession.

Opposing the plan were Commissioners Jeff Worthen, Barry Loman and Board President George Sykes. They said inflation would reduce the value of the bond issue over several years and would limit the ability of the park board to operate the district.

Real meaning of Christmas

A slide presentation on the real meaning of Christmas at the St. Mary-St. Mark Parent, Teacher and Friends Association highlighted the groups meeting last week.

Sister Barbara, school principal, and Sister Janet, eighth grade teacher, made the presentation.

Following a business meeting a catered dinner was held.

Recordings of the students' interpretation of Christmas were played.

A report was given on the students observing the American Cancer Society's Stop Smoking campaign by making posters and wearing "Smoking Stinks" buttons. Materials emphasizing the harmful effects of smoking were distributed.

Parents also participated by signing pledges to stop smoking for a 24-hour period. In keeping with the theme, the cafeteria served "cold turkey" sandwiches.

False $20 bills alleged

James D. Murphy, 18, and Ralph E. Clatts, 18, both of the Granite City area, were arrested in East Alton and were held at the Madison County jail last week on state felony charges after a search of an auto alleged to lead to 17 counterfeit $20 bills.

Bonds were set at $30,000.

Secret Service agents had been checking on reports of counterfeit bills in this area, the Alton area, Fairview Heights and Belleville.

Stores have been asked to watch for $20 Federal Reserve notes, mostly 1977. One group for the Federal Reserve Bank of New York has a front plate number of B300 and a back plate number of 392. Another group has 392 on the back and C209 on the front and names the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. The printing and the picture of Andrew Jackson are faded, and the paper lacks red and blue fibers.

Merchants who receive potentially counterfeit bills may call the Secret Service at 314-425-4238.

$15,000 LAWSUIT
A suit by Thomas J. Schenk, seeking in excess of $15,000, alleges that Attorney Leon G. Scroggins Sr. failed to file a suit against the Illinois Department of Corrections for right hand and arm fractures and injuries sustained by Schenk at the Vienna Correctional Center Feb. 7, 1977. Hiring is said to have taken place July 21, 1977. Lack of timely filing of litigation is alleged to have caused the statute of limitations to expire, blocking further action against the state.

Band students honored for membership sales

Lou Passig, president of the Granite City South Band Parent's Association, presented awards to band members selling the most tickets and sustaining memberships for the 1980-81 concert year.

First prize went to Terry Lloyd, second prize, Mike Brannum, and third prize, Paula Brown.

South Band Director Joseph E. Owens has announced the concert dates will be on Dec. 18, Feb. 19, March 24, and April 28 at 8 p.m. in Memorial auditorium at South.

Stage Band Concerts will be Jan. 29 and May 28.

Prior to the concert season, the Warrior Marching band performed at all football games and pep rallies. The percussion unit provided extra school spirit at the soccer games and the state tournament.

The band also plays at all basketball games and provides music at Homecoming, May Day, and all school musicals. The Band Parent's Association along with Director Owens are very proud of the band students, and feel they add a lot to the "spirit" at South High.

South Band parents operate the concession stands at all football and basketball games.

Some of the money earned was used to buy new uniforms and flags for the Flag Corps this year. The group hopes to raise enough money by next year to provide new uniform blouses and hats for the band.

Meetings of the organization are held the second Tuesday of each month in the band room. All parents or guardians of band members are invited to attend the next meeting, Tuesday, Dec. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

TOP BAND SALES. The three top ticket and sustaining membership sales band members were honored by the Granite City High School South Band Parents. From left are Mike Brannum, second place, Lou Passig, president of the band parents, congratulating Terry Lloyd for first place, and Paula Brown who earned third-place honors.

Buy toys according to age

By MARY RICHARDS
Part of the excitement of the Christmas season is shopping for toys. But parents and grandparents and favorite aunts can get carried away with what they think is a "cute" toy and forget that it may not be appropriate for the child. This is especially true of many of the electrical toys that have been marketed in recent years.

Before buying any toys, the Illinois Department of Public Health urges you to read the label carefully. Do not buy an electrical toy for a child too young to use it safely. Always check the age recommendation on the package, and remember—this is a minimum age recommendation. If a toy is labeled, "Not recommended for children under eight years of age," this does not mean that every child who is eight-years-old is mature enough to operate it.

Some children require more supervision than others. For example, there is ordinarily a great difference between a 12-year-old playing with an electrical football game and a nine-year-old using a toy oven.

The state health department recommends that you not buy a toy with a heating element for a child under eight years of age. And there are some hobby kits, such as woodburning kits, that reach very high temperatures. These cannot be recommended for children under 12 years of age.

In 1973, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission issued safety regulations which made it mandatory that all electrically operated toys have electrical plugs with a safety shield to protect small fingers from accidentally touching the prongs when the toy is being plugged into a wall outlet.

Teach children always to disconnect the cord by grasping the plug, not by pulling on the cord.

Only an adult of responsible older child should replace a light bulb in a toy as it is extremely important that the replacement bulb is of the proper wattage. The plug should be disconnected while the change is made. Never let your child play with an electric toy on the kitchen or bathroom floor where there may be standing water. And keep infants and toddlers out of the area in which an electrical toy is being used.

The state health department hopes that your child wakes up on Christmas morning and experiences the thrill of finding that dreamed-of electric oven or football game under the tree—but only if your child is old enough to understand the danger inherent in such toys.

If you want more information on electric toys, write to the Illinois Department of Public Health, Product Safety Program, 535 West Jefferson, Springfield, IL 62761.

4-YEAR PROBATION

A robbery occurring Jan. 25 has led to a sentence of probation for four years. Charles Price, 33, of 3002 E. 23rd St. also was ordered to make $75 restitution. He allegedly took a gun into the Reese Drug Store, 1322 Niedringhaus Ave., and obtained two bottles of a prescription drug that he said he needed to fight pain. Associate Judge John W. Day presided.

Anderson, Big Red get last laugh in thriller

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — The clock was winding down. The crowd was on its feet, cheering. And there he was, Otis Jerome Anderson, All-Pro running back. Last season's rookie of the year, jumping up and down at the 50-yard line, doing a disco dance and pointing his finger at the Detroit Lions' bench. He was celebrating.

Anderson and his St. Louis football Cardinals teammates scored a come-from-behind 24-23 victory here Sunday over Detroit, and in the process knocked the Lions out of a first place tie with Minnesota in the NFC Central Division. But more than that, the Big Red got revenge.

In these days of multi-million dollar salaries and bonus contracts, there's one basic thing that hasn't changed among the professional football player — his desire to win.

Eleven weeks ago, the Lions beat the Cardinals 20-7 in Detroit. And at the end of that game, members of their team celebrated with a disco-party in the end zone to the tune of the rock song, "Another One Bites The Dust," Detroit's theme song.

But yesterday in Busch Stadium, the Lions choked on the dust.

A 57-yard punt return for a touchdown by Cardinal Roy Green with only 3:40 remaining in the game and the extra point by Neil O'Donoghue capped the Big Red's dramatic comeback.

"The first thing I did after I scored was look back and see if there were any (penalty) flags on the field," said an exhausted Green. "But my teammates were right behind me and jumped all over me. I didn't get to see if there were any flags or not. But I could tell there weren't."

Cardinal head coach Jim Hanifan, whose team lost its fifth game of the season, told of the significance of the victory. "It was a very big win for us," he said. "That's because we did something we hadn't been able to do all season — we came from behind to win. And we did it against a very good football team. As a matter of fact, I don't think St. Louis has done that in a couple of years."

On Green's punt return, he took the ball on his own 43 yard line and started up the left side of the field; he then changed directions, darted back to his right and ran through a hole big enough to drive a semi-trailer truck through. "I got a good block from Roger (Wehrli). After that, the punter was the only one I had to beat," said Green. By the way, he beat the punter too.

"Green's punt return was obviously the big play," said Hanifan. "But our special teams did a good job all day."

But the game wasn't over at that point. Otis, by now, Big Red fans were ready for any kind of a comeback. Somehow, they thought, the Cardinals would find a way to lose another one. The question wasn't whether they would lose, but how. But St. Louis pulled a fast one on the fans. The defense stopped Detroit cold — twice.

On the Lions' first series of downs after Green's punt return, Cardinal linebacker Tim Kearney trapped Detroit's Horace King for a six-yard loss on a screen pass on first down. Two plays later on third down, Big Red rookie defensive end Curtis Greer sacked Detroit quarterback Gary Danielson for a 10 yard loss.

But the Big Red offense did nothing to help the cause. After a punt by Detroit's Tom Skladany pinned them on their own 15 yard line, the Cardinals ran three straight running plays and punted the ball back to the Lions.

On their first play from scrimmage, Detroit's Danielson hit Williams on a 16 yard pass, moving the ball down to the St. Louis 43-yard line. But on the next play, Greer sacks Danielson for an eight-yard loss. Greer appeared to have Danielson trapped for a 10-yard loss on the next play, but he (Danielson) got rid of the ball in time to Dave Hill to the 37. But an off-tackle play to Sims gained only a yard. On fourth-and-four from the Cardinal 41 yard line, Danielson tripped on a seam in the Astro-Turf, fell backwards and lofted a lame-duck pass straight into the air. It bounced away harmlessly.

Kearney, the Big Red linebacker, played with an acute pinched nerve in his neck. "I was in a lot of pain out there," he said. "But I'll take pain like this and winning any day."

Anderson, whose disco routine at the end of the game brought an ovation from the crowd, was held to only 67 yards rushing, but the Cardinals held Billy Sims, Detroit's rookie sensation from Oklahoma, to a mere 43 yards. Detroit's Dexter Bussie was the game's leading ground-gainer, picking up 49 yards on 12 carries. Anderson remained second in the NFC in rushing, but Sims slipped from first to third. Walter

Bills' season ended

SAN FRANCISCO — The St. Louis University soccer Billikens had their season ended yesterday with a 3-2 loss to the University of San Francisco in the quarterfinals of the NCAA Division I soccer tournament. In a game played at Kezar Stadium.

"We donated the game to West," said their coach, Harry Keough. "We gave them two of their goals and never got to play to our potential."

The Billikens outshot San Francisco 19-14, but couldn't find the range when needed. A game played earlier this season in St. Louis, San Francisco defeated the Billikens 1-0. St. Louis University also hosts the Dons in that game.

John Hayes, who scored all three Billiken goals last week, was their factor over Southern Methodist in playoff action, was at it again Sunday. He scored both of St. Louis' goals.

The two goals that Keough said were given to San Francisco came on a penalty kick and when Bjorn Tronstad intercepted a clearing pass by St. Louis goalie Dale Smith. That goal gave USF a 1-0 lead. But Hayes came back to give St. Louis a brief 2-1 lead, with his two goals.

San Francisco will advance to the NCAA National semifinals Dec. 13-14 in Tampa, along with Indiana, Hartwick and Alabama A&M.

South unbeaten

BLOOMINGTON — Granite City South's wrestling team upped its record to 4-0 here Saturday night with dual wins over Bloomington (48-9) and Stephen Decatur (50-11) at Bloomington High.

South's season began Friday night at home with a pair of dual victories over Centralia and Gateway East Conference rival Edwardsville. South's Warriors beat Centralia's Orphans 61-3 and then pounded Edwardsville 46-9.

The next action for South will be a home dual meet Tuesday against East St. Louis beginning at 7 o'clock.

It can be safe to say that North accomplished it. Tim Wyrstek polished off the meet in his own way. Finding an escape in the second period, he bought his own time and walked away with a 1-0 win. "All the kids really went out there and did the job," said Whitaker.

"West had to pin everyone after 138 to win the meet," A reverse late in the third period by West helped blow a big lead from Monte Kessler at 145. Kessler had to be satisfied with a 7-7 tie. The Belleville hopes had vanished. Scott Corey at 155 was the only clear shot winner, taking his match 9-0.

"West usually comes at you like gang-busters," said Whitaker. "We just hoped we could stay with them on the mat."

"I can't explain the feeling when something like this happens," he added. "This is a big turning point for us, especially for the younger kids. It really gives them a lot of confidence."

The Steelers had more than enough confidence when they met the other two teams. "I thought the guys were a little flat after such a GRANITE CITY — The script remained the same for the Granite South basketball team here Saturday. Only the characters had changed. For Head Coach Don Deterding the story is getting old.

The Warriors played another hard fought ball game. This time it was against the Belleville West Maroons and again South came out on the short end, losing 62-48.

"It's the same old story," said Deterding. "The kids give you every thing they got. It's got to be discouraging for them to play as hard as they can and come up short. Frustration may be a better word. It seems the Warriors go up against one element that eventually brings them down. Either it's the op-

North loses again

ALTIMONT — The Granite City North basketball Steelers lost their third game of the season here Saturday night, 73-50 to the Altamont Indians. The Indians led the Steelers 39-23 at halftime and were never threatened. Carl Luehmman led North with 17 points. Rich Takmajan also scored 10 for the Steelers. North junior varsity won its game 54-47. Paul Barrington had 22 points for the Steelers.

ponents speed or it's the size. Against West, the Maroons had size written all over them.

"They rotated three six foot six players," said Deterding. "They would take one out, and I'll be damned they would bring another in. They didn't have jump with us. Oh yes, size was a big factor." This was evident in the rebounding totals as West controlled the boards for 44 rebounds to 23 for South.

The Maroon's Steve Buklad was the biggest culprit, snatching 10 caroms while pouring in 14 points. The other startling giant, Dave Mordhorst gathered in 7 and tallied 10 points. "Mordhorst is our best inside player, but he didn't play that well tonight," said West head coach Roger Mueller. "Buklad really picked up the slack. I'm confident with our inside game, but it wasn't very good tonight. The key to the whole game was that we were bigger and stronger around the boards."

Although the Warriors gave it their all, the fact remains the same. South is 0-5. The figure could have been changed, if it was able to drop a few more shots.

This has also started to become an age old problem. "People watch the game and see how many free throws we miss and the shots that don't go in, but I'll tell you, they are not trying to miss," said Deterding. The shots are just not falling." South demonstrated its inability to hit the hole on a number of different occasions. It was streaks of several minutes at a time that allowed Belleville to pad

Trojans win another close one from Venice

victory over the Red Devils in Venice. The victory raised Madison's record to 2-0, while Venice fell to 0-4.

VENICE — Stunning. Hair-raising. A blood bath. Call it what you may, there's no other way you can describe the Madison-Venice basketball game Friday in Venice. Although the point spread was a bit larger than last year's games, with Madison winning 76-69, it was a typical shoot-out between the two small school powers.

To put the game in perspective, the intensity was so fierce that even the cheerleaders were booed during time-outs. On one side of the Venice gym sat a sea of green, yelling the Trojans on. The other side was filled with the red of Venice, screaming for the Red Devils. "When you sell a 100 tickets to the opposing fans, it's getting bad," said Venice head coach Ken Perkins.

But the fans were only a small indication of type of game it was. The Red Devils had one strong factor going for them. They had played just last weekend. Madison had been sitting for two weeks. The lay-off took its toll in the first half.

"I was worrying about not playing for a while," said

Trojan head coach Larry Graham. "We needed a game." What the rest gave Madison was a slue of turnovers, 16 in the first two quarters of play. This put Venice in good shape as it could do no wrong, building a nine point lead with the opening bucket of stanza two.

But these same Trojans were at the state tournament last year. They know how to handle pressure. And before Venice knew it, Madison's Billy Papa was converting a one and one free throw attempt with no time remaining in the half. He drew the Trojans within two 35-33.

"Billy Papa played a super game," said Graham. "He really gave us a lift." A lift was actually put on by Trojan Patrick Hatter. On three different occasions in the first half, Hatter soared to be the intimidator. On two breakaway lay-up attempts by Venice, Hatter came from behind to swipe the ball away. One of those cost him a foul.

Another time it cost Madison a possible two points, when Hatter attempted to jam a matted shot by his teammate. However, the official call him for offensive basket interference. The show was not over, though. "Hatter changed the whole momentum while he was in there," said Perkins. The six foot three senior certainly made his presence known.

With the Red Devils still in front, 38-37, Madison picked off a Venice pass. Hatter was on the receiving end of the steal and all alone, promptly slammed the ball through the hoop. The crowd came alive. On the very next play, Madison stole the ball again. And again it was Hatter, looking like Dr. J, jamming the ball home. The fans nearly brought the roof down this time. The Trojans had the lead for the first time.

"Hatter didn't have one of his better games," said Graham. "I like the dunk, it gets everyone fired up. I want the two points and I don't mind if Hatter wants to do it. He does it so easy. But others will want to do it and in a game like this, we can afford to miss easy shots."

As aggressiveness got him into foul trouble early in the second half, he received his fifth personal mid-way through the fourth period. The damage was done. He finished with 16 points and six rebounds.

"I was proud of the fact that we won the game without Hatter in there," said Graham. "It wasn't a one or two man effort. Morris Hughes efforts were felt. Cleaning up the board for 16 rebounds, Hughes also pumped in 19 points, 10 in the second half. "When you have a star, you go to him," said Perkins.

Whereas Venice had control of the game for the first 16 minutes, Madison gained the upper hand the crucial last 16. "We had to fight back," said Perkins. "We stuck in there and fought." This was evident in William Watt's performance for Venice. Burning the nets for 14 second half points, Watts ended with game high 23.

"I am firmly convinced that we out-played them," said Perkins. "But, Madison stole the championship material. They showed the ability to win in the last two minutes of the game." Although Madison only shot 57 percent from the free throw line, it hit six of seven charity tosses in the final quarter, including a sizzling 67 percent from the line.

Tiger grapplers have hopes but little talent

By TOM SCHOCKER

EDWARDSVILLE — When you think of Edwarsville High School sports, their fine baseball team or basketball squad might come to mind. In the past, the Tigers weren't really noted for a strong wrestling team. Consequently, head coach Warren Stahlhut has had trouble keeping good grapplers on the team for an extended period of time. This year is no exception. Six sophomores will get a place in the starting line-up for the Tiger team for the 1980-81 season. "We are young," said Stahlhut. "There are only six returnning letterman back. None of them had a winning record last year." The Tigers were 9-13 a year ago. The problem for Stahlhut is a perpetual one in which he has learned to live with. "It seems to happen to us every year," said Stahlhut. "We just can't keep six or eight seniors on the team at a time. I think you lose a lot of kids to jobs. I'm sure other schools have the same problems. It's just not a glamour sport here."

Stahlhut will have to "make do" with the grapplers he has. One player he is counting on to pull the squad together is Brian Regna, who had a 12-12 mark last year and placed second in the district tournament. "He (Regna) will provide some good leadership," said Stahlhut. "But when we get to big tournaments, we'll be hurting. The area just gets better and better. We are down in numbers, which I can't account for, but we have a balanced squad. That, in itself will help us a lot."

prove as the year goes on. "Those wrestlers have already received some valuable experience. Edwarsville is currently 2-2 on the young season. Posting victories over Murphysboro and Belleville Althoff, the Tigers dropped to a tough Roxana squad and Belleville East. "I was really surprised at the way they looked," said Stahlhut. "I'm not at all disappointed in the losses. Stahlhut will have to keep high hopes if his team is to tackle the remainder of the schedule. One that will give him a good idea of his squad's ability in the next week. "We meet with Granite City South and North, along with Belleville West in the next five days," said Stahlhut. Those are the best teams in the area. They will be a good indicator or else they will tear us up."

As far as goals for the season, Stahlhut will be quite pleased if his team can break even. "We are a pretty fair team in dual meets," said Stahlhut, "but when we get to big tournaments, we'll be hurting. The area just gets better and better. We are down in numbers, which I can't account for, but we have a balanced squad. That, in itself will help us a lot."

Edwardsville puts clamps on Steelers

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor

EDWARDSVILLE —

For six and a half minutes

Friday night,

Granite City North's

basketball team played

Edwardsville nose-to-

nose in the two teams'

Gateway East

Conference contest. But that wasn't quite good enough.

Edwardsville broke the game open late in the first quarter and coasted to an easy 87-42 victory over the Steelers. "I don't get mad at the guys who

much," said North coach

Bill Ohlendorf. "We're

young. We're real young.

We played good ball for a little over six minutes

here tonight. But we know we've got to work on some things. As long as they come out and try and improve a little each game, I won't get too

upset."

For Edwardsville, it was a scoring spree. The Tigers had four players in double figures, paced by

Bruce Dickman's, 21

points. Paul Schaefer scored 19 for Edwardsville, Bradford scored

10, while Wood added 12.

"We knew what they were, we had two things to accomplish and the final score of the game was secondary to that."

"First we wanted to do

a better job defensively

and, secondly we wanted to put some meaning into our transition game.

Transition — that's our style. That doesn't mean

we can't play power

basketball, because we can. What it does mean, however, is that we keep the flow moving, be alert. In position, gamble and go up and down the court with our heads up.

"We can get many fast break baskets without actually trying fast-break. This helps out

those costly turnovers," said Vallino.

Just six-and-a-half

minutes into the game

North was within striking distance of the Tigers, trailing by only six points. But that was soon to be taken care of.

That six point

Edwardsville lead suddenly turned into 24 points Edwardsville lead.

"We didn't panic," said

Ohlendorf. "But we did give Edwardsville a little opening. And against a team like that, that's all it takes. You can't do that against a very good ball club and not expect to get hurt."

North then dropped to 0-

2 overall and 0-1 in the

Gateway East

Conference. The Steelers'

first loss, over Wood River. "You know, our first two games weren't against any two slouches," said Ohlendorf.

"Wood River and

Edwardsville will most likely be two of the better ball clubs in the area this season."

Granite North was led

in scoring by Harold Rody and Rich Takmanjan who each scored seven points.

NEW YORK—The United States' next participation in World Cup play may be four years away, but at least the Americans have something to savor until the next world tournament rolls around. The U.S. National Team, behind a two-goal effort by Steve Meyers, defeated the National Team of Mexico, 2-1, last week in Ft. Lauderdale, this country's first triumph over the Mexicans since the 1934 World Cup in Rome.

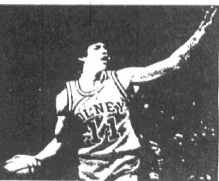

Although the victory did not change the final Northern Zone standings—Canada and Mexico advance to next year's CONCACAF tournament while the U.S. is eliminated—it did lift the depleted spirits of the Americans.

"This game was entirely for pride—the players had something to prove," said U.S. National Coach Walt Chyzowych. "I said all along this was the best U.S. National Team ever. Unfortunately, they just didn't play well when it counted. Though a lot of people told us this game was meaningless, it certainly wasn't to us. Any time an American athlete puts on a shirt with 'U.S.A.' on the front is enough of a motivational factor."

The U.S., in a complete about-face from its performance in an earlier 5-1 loss in Mexico City (Nov. 9), outshot the Mexicans 12-10 and held a large territorial advantage. Meyers, a St. Louis native who plays for the NASL's California Surf, scored the game's first goal in a header in the 11th minute. Mexico's Hugo Sanchez, a forward who has played for the San Diego Sockers the past two NASL seasons, tied the score on a header off a free kick with five minutes left in the first half.

The blond-haired Meyers brought the Lockhart Stadium crowd to its feet in the 66th minute, scoring the game-winner, unassisted from 25 yards out. U.S. goalkeeper Arnie Mausser saved the victory with a leaping deflection of a 20-yard shot by Leonardo Cuellar with 13 minutes remaining.

"This was a matter of respect for ourselves. We played with intensity," explained Mausser, a former Ft. Lauderdale Striker and a veteran of 24 "full" internationals for the U.S. "I wish we played this way the whole tournament. We were more together. The attitude was positive."

GRANITE CITY—If you can't put the basketball through the hoop, you're not likely to win the game. Granite South's 67-64 overtime loss to Belleville Althoff here Friday was a perfect example of how not to win when given the chance.

The Warriors were winning by 14 midway through the third quarter. Don Deterding was flirting with the idea that his team might just gain that first victory. But it was premature. South started the draw instead of net. By the end of the third period, the

"We wanted this game," said Meyers. "We worked for each other and gave an all-out effort. We didn't do that in our other game. Tonight we jelled. We showed that we were one of the better teams 'tough'."

The match was mostly a wide-open affair, a sharp contrast to the 0-0 draw between the U.S. and Canada played Oct. 25 in Ft. Lauderdale. It featured 18 corner kicks, including 10 by the red-clad Americans. The 2,126 fans who braved a driving rainstorm saw Mexican goalie Gregorio Cortez called upon for six saves, compared to four for his American counterpart, Mausser.

The triumph was the first for the U.S. in four World Cup preliminaries, giving the National Team a Northern Zone record of 1-2-1 and three points. Mexico finishes with a 1-1-2 mark and four points, just behind Canada with a 1-0-3 record and five points. Canada and Mexico will represent the Northern Zone in the 1981 CONCACAF (North, Central America, and the Caribbean) tournament—an event that will also include two teams each from the Central American and Caribbean zones. The CONCACAF tournament will determine the two teams that will represent the region in the 24-team World Cup in Spain.

Althoff up in OT

Warriors were up by only four. South had suffered three minutes without a score. The fourth stanza was even more disastrous. Althoff gave South the chance to score. The Warriors went to the free throw line seven times on one or two attempts. Instead they came away empty. In South hit only four losses in 15 tries during the last frame of play.

"The game boils down to one thing," said Deterding. "We couldn't hit our free throws. We had all the shots and opportunities. They just didn't fall. How can you explain shots going in one minute and then not the next?"

Althoff didn't really care for an explanation. It seized the chance and caught South to tie the game at 60 at the end of regulation time. From there the Warriors were lifeless. But Deterding was still not unhappy with his team's effort. "Free throw shooting is contagious," said Deterding. "A couple of players miss, everyone will catch it. Just look at George Sikes. He was eight for eight from the line going into this game."

a comfortable lead. Up 14-13 late in the first period, the Warriors went into a "cold" spell. West took on the last four points of the quarter and the first six tallies of the second found itself trailing by 10. Even though the Warriors hit at a 34 percent clip, it was those dry periods that told the tale. When South did find the range, it was Ken McManus and the Warrior bench that unloaded. McManus felt the hot hand early, dropping in his first four shots in a row. It was then, the West defense tightened up and he cashed in just three more points. "Ken is tenacious for going in streaks with his movements," said Deterding. McManus led South in scoring with 13.

Jim Choat and Tom Tracy came off the bench to deliver a good offensive punch. Choat missed just two shot for eight points and Tracy hit three of four for six tallies. Other than that, the Maroon defense shut South down. West's smothering man-to-man defense held the Warriors to seven second quarter. "West probably has the best man-to-man defense in the state," said Deterding.

"But South, in the past, has been notoriously poor against a man-to-man. We have faced it the last two nights and are just not getting consistent movement." The Warriors, however, did not quit. Late in the third quarter, South rallied to cut the Maroon lead to six at 41-35. The pressure was kept up by the Warriors, but again "the end of a quarter spelled frustration. West retaliated for eight unanswered points. "We got good shots against the pressure," said Mueller. "We attacked their press and got a few easy lay-ups, but we usually make adjustments to the defense and found some way to get the ball to our inside men. Don (Deterding) skillfully mixed the defense up. South did a good job."

Health aid to poor costing state more

Escalating costs of medical assistance to the poor — particularly in-patient hospital costs — are dominating the public aid budget in Illinois, Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported this week.

The number of public aid recipients has been increasing steadily throughout the past year, he added. After touching a seven-year low in November 1979, the number of aid recipients increased by 45,183 through September 1980.

In his monthly fiscal report, Burris said the state must pay close attention to future medical rate increases.

He noted that a new rate-setting system scheduled for implementation Jan. 1, 1981, by the Illinois Health Finance Authority may help to control the cost escalation.

Looking at the overall fiscal health of the state government, Burris said that while revenues for the first four months of fiscal 1981 are running about $9 million higher than expenditures, sales tax receipts for the same period are down 1.2 percent or $10 million.

The persistent high unemployment in Illinois is expected to continue for some time to come, he said. His biggest concern for the Illinois economy is the threat of relapse into another recessionary period.

Findings of the comptroller's special report on Illinois public aid include:

— Medical assistance expenditures for aid recipients have increased 275 percent in the last decade, rising from $344 million in fiscal 1971 to $1,289 million in 1980.

Spending for aid to families with dependent children doubled in the last 10 years, though the AFDC caseload and the number of recipients declined since the 1976 recession peak period. The average number of cases each month dropped from 226,346 in 1976 to 207,389 in 1980. The average monthly number of persons was 883,992 in 1976, dropping to 663,486 in 1980.

— The average AFDC grant per person has risen less rapidly than medical and other aid costs in the last decade, moving upward from $677 per person in fiscal 1971 to $1,036 in 1980.

— General assistance recipients, who must accept bona fide job opportunities and training programs, fare slightly better than AFDC recipients on a per person basis. General assistance grants per person averaged $1,102 in 1971, rising to $1,915 in 1980.

— Medical care for the needy in Illinois involves 23,000 licensed medical practitioners or licensed facilities. Almost half of these costs are reimbursed by the federal government. Hospital expenditures far outstrip other medical costs, increasing 83 percent in the last five years.

Dedicate overpass to the hard work of many people

Mayor Paul Schuler had good reason to be so excited he was shaking as he helped dedicate the 19th Street overpass between West Granite and the downtown area Friday—he was a dream come true.

Louis Cohen of Cohen Foods may have summarized it best when he said he believes he has spent six years of his life waiting for trains to pass. Families have known the sorrow of having another one because the ambulance has been unable to cross the railroad tracks for immediate medical aid.

The overpass is under construction, due to be completed in the summer of 1982, and will serve as a fitting and permanent monument to all of the many politicians, citizens, county and state officials who could have easily decided a project of that magnitude was not within their reach and set it aside.

We congratulate the contractor for keeping work moving ahead of schedule and hope nothing interferes with speedy completion of this vital project.

We also hope the overpass will serve as a bridge, not only between two parts of our city, but serve as a bridge to bring people closer together, enable West Granite and Lincoln Place to grow and prosper, once the fear of being stopped by crossing the railroad tracks is a thing of the past.

Congratulations to everyone who had any part in getting the overpass built, for without that part, no matter how small, Friday might just have been another day of sitting in the car, waiting for another train to clear the 19th Street crossing.

Get ready for new ZIP codes—with nine digits

If you are tired of nine-digit security numbers, 10-digit telephone numbers and 13-digit credit card numbers, beware. Another digit complication appears on its way—nine-digit ZIP codes.

Scheduled to begin early in 1981, nine-digit ZIP codes will help the mailmen, directing each letter not only to the correct post office, but also to the proper mail route.

However, like the basic law of physics that for every action there is an opposite and equal reaction, the convenience to the mailmen will come at the inconvenience of the public, which is paying the bills.

Streamlined mail sorting, reducing the need for future postal rate increases, is cited by the U.S. Post Office as the reason for the nine-digit ZIP codes, but we wonder whether the problems all of us will encounter in obtaining ZIP codes for all of our mail will justify the move.

The Post Office agrees that there will be far too many ZIP codes to distribute a nation-wide ZIP code directory, which would contain at least 30,000 pages, but will establish toll-free telephone numbers for persons who need a ZIP code.

Plans also are underway to print local directories of ZIP codes.

That would ease the problem, unless the number is always busy and we suspect the ZIP phones at the information center would be the busiest in the nation, at least until everyone has entered the new ZIP codes of friends and relatives into address books.

A few Congressmen say they oppose nine-digit ZIP codes, but the postal forerunner is already busy and we suspect the number is always busy and we suspect the ZIP phones at the information center would be the busiest in the nation, at least until everyone has entered the new ZIP codes of friends and relatives into address books.

Put the federal money where it is needed most

(Reprinted by permission of "The Philadelphia Inquirer")

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, majority (soon to become minority) leader of the Senate, says that renewal of the $6.9 billion federal revenue-sharing program is a "very high priority" for the lame-duck session of Congress. If the Senate wants to do the incoming Reagan administration a favor, it will go along with the House version.

In that version, the House approved a three-year extension that would provide $4.6 billion for local governments but reached a compromise on the reversal question of continuing $2.3 billion in revenue-sharing for the states. Under the compromise, states accepting revenue-sharing funds would be obligated to return to the federal treasury an equal amount in categorical aid, that is, funds appropriated by Congress for specific purposes.

The state governors have been lobbying against any cuts in state revenue-sharing funds, and one can hardly blame them for that. No one likes to see the money on the pipeline cut off. Yet generally speaking, the states are in much better fiscal condition than the federal government, which by optimistic calculations will be running a $25 billion deficit in fiscal 1981.

It also is a pleasure and great convenience to spend money one doesn't have to raise. Revenue-sharing, a keynote of Richard Nixon's "new federalism," has become an old hand-out. It flows from Washington to the nation's 39,000 local communities and 50 states whether they need it or not.

There is a certain—call it by its right name—hypocrisy in the position of many of the states. The voters of California, for example, approved Proposition 13 a couple of years ago, drastically reducing their property taxes. The voters of Massachusetts have just approved a similar measure, cutting their property taxes by 26 percent. In many states, including Pennsylvania, there are proposals to amend the state constitution to hold down state and local taxes. Yet many of the same officials who support these propositions argue at the same time that Washington (a) should get its own fiscal house in order and (b) must keep the federal revenue-sharing funds flowing.

Republican governors called for a reduction in federal spending and taxes and a restoration of the states' share of general revenue sharing.

The program deserves a careful review. The idea of "counter-cyclical" assistance (what both House and Senate agree on) makes sense and should be expanded. Cities, like Philadelphia and New York and Detroit and Youngstown, Ohio, need more help than they are getting. Does Grosse Pointe, Mich., one of the nation's most affluent suburbs, need federal help? Does Lone Jack, Mo., a village with 350 people, one of the 11,000 "toy governments" as a National Science Foundation study called them, need to get $700 a year to maintain its municipal property?

Giving out federal aid in this manner is ludicrous, the authors of the program served. "It does spread the money around, all right, but the 'no strings' approach does not encourage local governments to clean up their act or consolidate to achieve efficiency and economy. If revenue-sharing is to continue, the highest priority should be to redirect its focus on the basis of a simple principle. That principle can be summed up in a word: Need.

Two charges of assault

Ben A. Daniels, 43, 2341 Benton St., was released at 9:20 a.m. Sunday after being charged with two counts of aggravated assault.

Daniels allegedly displayed a gun on two women who were parking their auto in front of 2118 Grand Ave. at the time he allegedly said, "One wrong word and you're dead."

One of the women asked, "What have we done?" Daniels then allegedly threatened them again and left.

The women noted the license number and description of the car and called police.

A license check revealed Daniels' name and address and he was arrested at home at 1:14 a.m. Sunday.

3 Spanish War vets in Illinois

As of November, Illinois had three remaining Spanish-American War veterans. Nationwide, there are only 14 living veterans from that conflict.

There were 392,000 participants in the Spanish-American War, which began April 21, 1898, through July 4, 1902. The period includes the Philippine insurrection and the Boxer Rebellion.

The oldest living veteran, according to the Veterans Administration, is Harry J. Chaloner, 100, who is a resident of the VA's Bay Pines nursing home care unit in Florida.

Florida is home for 22 Spanish-American War veterans, or less than 6 percent of the survivors. Seventeen live in California. The remainder are scattered among 33 states and the Philippines.

Foreign Relations leader notes 8th of Ill. jobslinked to exports

To the Editor:

The period of transition between two administrations in Washington is always a time of excitement and expectation.

This year is no exception, with millions of Americans anticipating the changes that will accompany the arrival of the new administration.

We can all marvel at the stability and efficiency of our electoral process, the awesome event that occurs every four years on election day when millions of Americans go to the polls to select their national leaders.

In one day, the people speak and the winners and the losers accept their fates.

Once again this year, the national election showed the power invested in the American voters and the majority of the candidates.

President Carter made a gracious and thoughtful statement on election night, President-elect Reagan expressed gratitude and humility.

The results of the Nov. 4 election reflected a strong mandate for the president-elect and those elected to Congress.

In my judgment, the mandate states simply that the American people want a change in their national leadership that will speak directly to their most basic desires for a healthy and strong national defense.

Americans want to feel good about their country again. They want to regain confidence that the future will be better for them as individuals and as a nation.

I should have no illusions about the difficulty of the task we face. It will take determination to make progress on the basic issues that go together to forge sound economic and defense policy.

But there should be no doubt about our will to pursue these goals tirelessly for myself, I am committed to the effort to cut federal spending, taxes and excessive government regulation. This is the mandate of the election in 1978, and I intend to pursue these goals tirelessly.

Now that the Alpha Center is started and receiving girls, we will need the help and support of all.

New foreign policies are needed

To the Editor:

When Ronald Reagan is inaugurated, his secretary of state will face a mammoth task on behalf of all the members of the Alpha Center board in thanks for all the help we have been getting from the Alpha Center.

I will not mention any names because you know who you are—all you good people who have donated your time to help clean and paint and fix whatever

Also, the people who donated paint, wallpaper and bricks, fixed windows, doors, and doors, and donated money, furniture, bedding and whatever else it took to get the center going.

Now that the Alpha Center is started and receiving girls, we will need the help and support of all.

With God's help, and with the board working together, Alpha Center will soon become an asset to Granite City.

in the next Congress.

As the new chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, I will seek a bipartisan foreign policy.

At the top of our agenda in the committee will be strategic arms control, based on the mutual desire of the new administration and Congress to negotiate a meaningful and equitable treaty with the Soviet Union.

In the committee we will also pursue the search for peace in the Middle East and the need for our allies in Europe and Japan to share a greater part of the burden of defending the free world.

Also, the need to improve our relations with our neighbors in Canada and Mexico, and the need to continue our growing relations with the People's Republic of China while maintaining mutually beneficial contacts with the people of Taiwan.

As an Illinoisan, I am particularly pleased about the opportunity to chair the Foreign Relations Committee.

Illinois stands first in the nation in the export of agricultural commodities. Our state is a leader in the export of manufactured goods.

In Illinois, 80 percent of our land is devoted to agriculture.

One out of every three acres planted is exported, and one out of every eight jobs in Illinois depends on exported products. So the nation's foreign policy takes on a special dimension for every citizen of Illinois.

The new majority in the Senate is well prepared to assume its responsibilities.

We have long prepared for the challenge of leading the Senate in these challenging and exciting times.

Along with the new administration, we welcome the opportunity of acting on the mandate of the people in 1978, and I intend to pursue these goals tirelessly.

Governor James R. Thompson said Friday the Illinois Unemployment Trust Fund is indebted to the federal trust fund for $946 million as of Nov. 1, a debt incurred in 1975-76 when the state borrowed to meet costs associated with high unemployment. He urged steps to reduce fraud and abuse, and to intensify efforts to find work for the jobless.

May explain powerful objects in universe

Astonishingly massive black holes are the most logical explanations for the small but immensely powerful objects that astronomers are finding at the far reaches of the universe.

One is almost driven to the conclusion that such holes do exist in great numbers, although none has ever been seen or proven, according to Dr. J. Beverly Oke, a noted astronomer from the California Institute of Technology.

Black holes are the still-theoretical remnants of massive stars that have collapsed inward upon themselves during their final death throes. The collapse creates an object so small and dense that its gravitational pull will permit nothing, not even light, to escape.

In recent years, Oke said, astronomers have sighted strange and powerful galaxies and quasars (quasi-stellar objects) that emit enormous amounts of energy, more than their size can explain.

Some of these, he said, can produce 100,000 billion times the light of the sun but are no bigger than the solar system.

Some quasars, he said, emit 1,000 times the energy of an entire galaxy.

The question for astronomers, he said, is the source of this enormous energy output.

"It's really incredible," Oke said.

So far, he said, scientists have explored a number of possible solutions, using the greatest energy sources known to man.

Nuclear fission, the power behind the atomic bomb and modern nuclear power plants, is a dismal failure. It falls short by factors of from 100 to 1,000 times.

Fusion power, more potent by far than fission (it's the power behind the hydrogen bomb and the hope of future nuclear energy), can't explain it, either, Oke said. It misses by a factor of 10, he said.

So what's left? Gravitational power seems to be the best answer, he indicated, as it could provide 10 times the energy of fusion power.

Recent observations show that many of the most powerful galaxies and quasars have a tiny bright spot right in their middle.

The idea is that matter falling into a black hole because of its immense gravitational pull would produce synchrotron radiation as its final gasp before disappearing forever.

The radiation could provide the high energies and the tiny bright spot that have been observed, Oke said.

Several black-hole candidates have been identified, but none has been proven.

Nonetheless, Oke argued, the evidence indicates that these powerful sources are caused by massive black holes.

In fact, he said, it is probable that "all these peculiar objects almost certainly have a black hole at their center."

Combined effort leads to several cocaine arrests

After nine months of undercover investigation agents of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) arrested men on charges of unlawful delivery of cocaine and on other felony charges dealing with stolen autos, illegal sale of weapons and conspiracy.

None of the 16 were from the Quad-Cities area, with most of those arrested from Wood River, Alton and Bethalto. There were 20 indictments.

Southern Illinois DCI Commander Kenneth R. Metcalf said most of the activity was in the Bethalto-East Alton area of Madison County, with some in Macoupin County.

Metcalf said covert agents spent nearly $26,000 to purchase cocaine, stolen cars and handguns.

Several unrelated groups were involved and were being investigated simultaneously by the Madison County Sheriff's Department, DCI, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), and the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms; in addition to local police in the various cities where those arrested were residents.

Metcalf said that no link has been found between the persons arrested during the weekend and the large marijuana smuggling ring called "the Company" operating in the greater St. Louis area under the alleged leadership of two East Alton-Wood River area residents and a Brighton area man.

Mark A. Yates, 21, of 1732 Delmar Ave., has been released on $102 on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

The two were stopped at 7:20 p.m. Friday, 27th Street and Delmar Avenue, in regard to the ownership of a truck they were driving.

When getting out of the truck Yates allegedly threw something under the truck. It was a locking knife with a four-inch blade, police said.

Police also allegedly found a clear plastic bag believed to contain cannabis in the left front vest pocket of Wilson.

The truck belonged to Virgil Simpson, whom Wilson worked for and had taken allegedly without Simpson's knowledge.

Lawsuit for half million

A lawsuit filed by Gateway Drywall and Decorating, Inc., against William Werner seeks $500,000.

The Circuit Court suit alleges $250,000 actual damages and $100,000 consequential damages, and $150,000 in punitive damages from Werner, described as an employee from March 24, 1969, to Aug. 1, 1970, at Werner's agency.

The suit alleges that such conversions caused the firm to suffer a net operating loss of more than $200,000 from Jan. 1, 1980, to June 30, 1980, jeopardizing its financial viability.

Stolen car is recovered

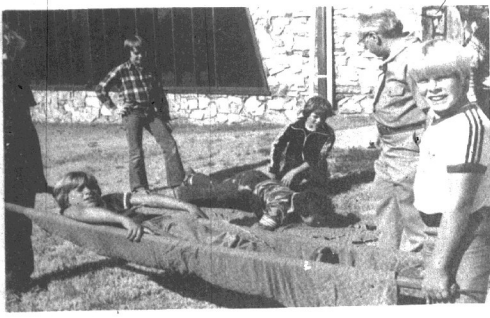

The auto of John Harizal, 2509 Delmar Ave., stolen from his auto during the weekend, was recovered in the 2000 block of State Street at 9:25 p.m. Sunday.

Harizal said he heard someone tampering with the side door of his home about 9 p.m. Saturday and Harizal's son frightened the intruder away.

It was discovered Sunday that a set of car keys kept near that door was missing, as was the auto.

The owner located the auto on State Street and notified police. It had damage to the front wheel and had to be towed from the scene. The keys have not been recovered, it was noted.

May trim state's welfare programs

By CARLY CARSTENS

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois' 1981-82 welfare programs probably will be trimmed because of lowered funding, despite an anticipated increase in the number of persons needing assistance, according to Jeffrey Miller, director of the Department of Public Aid.

"I've got a fairly clear set of instructions from the governor for next year's budget," said Miller.

The same economic conditions that are reducing the state's revenues and causing the demands for budget trimming also are driving up the welfare rolls.

Statewide, there were 984,286 persons receiving some type of welfare assistance in September, 4,394 more than one year earlier. That hike in the welfare rolls meant an increase in expenditures of more than $35 million just for September.

Miller said he will begin the trimming process by evaluating optional programs for spending reductions. Optional programs are services not funded by the federal government but supplied in Illinois. They include payment for prescription medicines and treatments by podiatrists and chiropractors.

"If we cut medical services, my hope would be some increase in grant levels," Miller said, in order to compensate the recipients for some of the expenditures coming out of their own pockets.

The Thompson administration prepared its welfare budgets for the last two years based on predictions that a recession would arrive in a few months. Those predictions didn't arrive, and the department turned millions in unspent funds back to the treasury. This year, the recession struck and the welfare budget, close to $2.5 billion, has been steadily depleted.

Miller expects the numbers of people seeking welfare to continue to rise over the next several months. So far, more people are seeking general assistance than was anticipated, but the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program hasn't shown as much as he predicted last spring.

General assistance provides relief to persons who do not qualify for the federally funded programs for families with dependent children, the elderly or disabled.

General assistance is funded by the state in Cook County and in downstate townships where the township poor relief tax is high enough to qualify it for state funds.

Accompanying the growth in people on the general assistance rolls has been an unexpected expansion of the state-funded medical assistance program for persons who do not qualify for the federally funded Medicaid.

Officials expected the state-funded program for the "medically indigent" to cost a little over $1 million a month this year. But costs are running around $5 million a month, according to Miller.

Miller doesn't expect combined welfare rolls during the current recession to exceed the more than 1 million people who were on public aid during the 1974-75 recession. In September, there were 984,286 persons receiving assistance.

When their jobless pay benefits are used up and there are no jobs for them, they then seek assistance from one of the welfare programs.

Hit-run accident leads to arrest

Carl Cavitt, 57, who resides in the same building as Victor's Tavern, 2001 Illinois Ave., was arrested at the tavern Saturday afternoon and was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving while intoxicated.

It is alleged that Cavitt's truck was involved in an accident at West 22nd Street and Illinois Avenue at 2:30 a.m. Saturday.

Jason Clark, 2801 W. 20th St., the driver of the other vehicle in the accident, said he had turned left from 22nd Street onto Illinois Avenue and his path was blocked by parked cars on both sides of the street and a truck in the middle.

The driver of the truck motioned for Clark to back up and Clark complied, but before he completed backing, the truck rammed through, striking the front of Clark's vehicle, he reported. The truck then left the scene.

Clark gave police a description of the truck and its driver and officers located the truck at the tavern about 20 minutes later, it was reported. Cavitt was found in the tavern and admitted driving the truck on Illinois Avenue, but denied having the accident.

Police alleged there was fresh damage to the front of the truck which matched damage to Clark's vehicle. Cavitt, who allegedly appeared intoxicated, according to police, was taken into custody and refused to submit to a breath test for alcohol.

Provost search committee active

Annette Baich, professor in the SIUE department of biological sciences, School of Science and Technology, has been elected to head the university's Vice President and Provost Search Committee.

The 12-member committee is considering candidates and nominations for the position and is expected to submit names of five recommended candidates to President Earl Lazerson by Feb. 1.

The president will select his choice for the position from the five and will recommend his selection to the chancellor and Board of Trustees for appointment as vice president and provost. Lazerson announced Sept. 15 that a nationwide search would be conducted for the position. Announcing his plans for administrative reorganization, he said the academic role and responsibility of the institution.

The vice president and provost will head the Office of Academic Affairs and Student Services, and will serve as the person in charge in the absence of the president. Professor Baich is one of four members of the search committee appointed by the Faculty Senate. Others are Paul Gaston, Stanford Levin and John McCall.

Other members of the committee and the constituency groups which made their appointments are: Patty Jo Birky, Lawrence Hampton and Laura Robinson, appointed by the Student Senate; Mary Malone and Christa Oxford, University Staff Senate; Shawn Guyot, Planning and Budget Council; Suzanne Jacobitti, Academic Deans Conference; and David Huntley, Academic Directors Conference.

The closing date for nominations and applications for the position was Nov. 3. Earl Beard is serving as acting vice president and provost until the permanent appointment is made.

DRAMSHOP LAWSUIT

Steven B. McCoy is suing Rocky Hanoff for $15,000 actual and $10,000 punitive damages, and Faye Snider of the Wayside Tavern for $15,000 in an Illinois Dramshop Act suit. It is alleged that Hanoff was served alcohol in the tavern and then stabbed McCoy with a knife there Nov. 3, 1979, causing severe injuries.

Nuclear power plant to cost more

Illinois Power Company has announced a new construction schedule and cost estimate for the Clinton nuclear power station Unit 1.

The new schedule for fuel load of the 950,000 kilowatt plant is January, 1983. This date is nine months later than the company's previous estimate, and seven months earlier than the NRC's estimated fuel load date of August, 1983.

The change in schedule is required because of new design requirements and changes to previous design. Almost all of these are due to regulatory requirements.

The new cost estimate for the plant is $1,732,981,200. This is an increase of about $345 million over the previous estimate.

Factors contributing to the new estimate, and their impact, are increased costs due to the nine-month delay in fuel load, about 26 percent; additional financing costs primarily due to the nine-month delay, about 29 percent; requirements as a result of the Three Mile Island accident and other regulatory requirements, about 19 percent; and other design changes, about 15 percent, and escalation and underestimating, about 11 percent.

Unit 1's estimated cost has been revised annually except for the year 1979 since the company's original cost estimate of $429 million in 1973. The last estimate, $1,388 billion, was released on Feb. 13, 1980. Today's estimate is 304 percent higher than the 1973 estimate.

This is the fourth change in Unit 1's schedule since the company announced plans in 1972 to build a nuclear power plant at Clinton, delaying the commercial operating date for a total of three years and two months. Previous changes were announced in 1974, 1976 and 1978.

The first delay, of one year, was announced before heavy construction began. It was caused by regulatory change in the classification of the proposed Clinton Lake.

The second change came after construction was underway as more detailed engineering indicated that more manhours of work were needed than originally expected. The third schedule change resulted primarily because two successive, severe winters had halted construction and because the company's load forecasts had been revised.

Based on current data, the company said the Clinton plant schedule delays and cost increases are less than those of other one-unit boiling water reactor (BWR) nuclear plants being built in the United States.

In addition to Clinton, six other such plants are under construction. Delays in schedules range from Clinton's low of three years and two months to a high of nine years and 10 months.

Increases in original cost estimates for the seven plants range from Clinton's 304 percent to a high of 732 percent. The cost-per kilowatt for building Clinton is $1,824, compared to a low of $1,269 per kw and a high of $2,686 per kw among the Russell Maier, 3813f Village Lane, noted that his Jeep had been entered in the parking lot and items removed. He identified four cassette tapes, a map, an auto cigarette lighter, gloves, a spotlight, a socket wrench set, an ammunition box containing tools and a strap from the loot recovered in the blue car.

Police expected additional reports to be filed this morning. Items for which the owner had not been determined this morning included shogun shells, a knife, a jacket, tapes, tools, a cap, gloves, a broom, an eight-track tape player, mounted speakers and a jack, according to officers.

Reckless homicide charge dismissed

A reckless homicide charge against Jimmy L. Creek, 44, of 219 Louisiana St., was dismissed last week by Circuit Judge A. A. Matosian, pursuant to an Appellate Court ruling.

Tried in the Circuit Court on charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless homicide, Creek was sentenced in June to incarceration for 364 days on the former charge and a concurrent period on the latter charge.

It was alleged at the trial that he was driving west on State Route 162 a half-mile east of State Route 35 on Nov. 19, 1978, when his car collided with an eastbound auto.

Mrs. Faye Agnes Lee, 64, Pontoon Beach, a passenger in the eastbound vehicle, was injured fatally in the crash and her son, David Lee, was among those hurt.

COUNTY JAIL TERM

Brent "Terry" Cartteris, 19, of 81 Grenzer Homes, Madison, has been sentenced to five months in the county jail by Circuit Judge Victor J. Mosele. Cartteris was initially charged with a July 29 burglary in Madison, and the allegation was amended to petty theft.

ASSAULT CHARGE
An assault charge was filed against Robert Pfeiffer, 44, Bend, at 20th Street and Edwardville Road at 2:30 a.m. Friday after he allegedly fought with police who had escorted him out of a tavern.

Holiday Inn rooms offered for students

The motel chain known as the nation's innkeeper may also become its housemother if a unique agreement between Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Holiday Inn continues to thrive.

The University, faced with limited housing as a commuter campus 20 miles northeast of St. Louis, regularly runs out of rooms before it runs out of students who want them.

Last year, the Edwardsville Holiday Inn, on Interstate 270 at Ill. 157 near the rural campus, stepped in and agreed to rent a limited number of rooms to students at a monthly rate during the winter quarter.

The idea worked so well, the offer is being repeated this year, said Richard Madison, director of resident life at the University. Some students used the motel rooms as a temporary home while they waited to get into regular University housing. Others decided to stay near campus rather than fight the daily drive in hazardous or unpredictable weather, he said.

Under the monthly agreement, students will get a regular motel room with standard furniture, telephone, television, indoor swimming pool and jacuzzi privileges, plus weekly cleaning services, for $175 for one person, one-bed accommodations, or $275 for two-person, two-bedroom.

"The only thing they won't get is a change of sheets or a dry towel every day," Madison said. "Students must provide their own linen."

The rooms, all in one section of the complex, will be available during winter quarter beginning Jan. 5. Additional information and application forms are available anytime at the SIUE Housing Office in Redman Building Room 1113 or by calling 618-692-3831.

Madison said student tenants would be subject to the usual regulations governing student housing on campus.

Horticulture Degree
 CLEMSON, N.C.—A master's degree in "horticulture," combining the fields of horticulture and psychology, is offered by Clemson University here. The concept of horticulture is treatment of people through the use of flowers and plants to gain a new interest in life. Primary target groups for the therapy are the aged, blind and other physically handicapped people. The university selects five persons each year from 120 applicants for the program. Degree requisites include an internship and thesis.

Although our grandmothers cooked on wood

WOOD COOKING MAKES A COMEBACK!

With the recent trend toward convenience cooking, it seems the most important item in most American kitchens has been the electrical outlet.

Americans are so conditioned to "plugging in" that many people think a meal just can't be prepared without a microwave oven, food processor, crock pot, toaster oven and other assorted kitchen gadgets.

However, in the face of skyrocketing energy costs, many people are thinking twice before turning on their gas or electric ranges. They are returning to a simpler, cheaper method of cooking on their wood stoves.

"We've noticed quite a return to wood stove cooking," says Robert McCredie, vice president of Garrison Stove Works, Claremont, N.H. "We now offer both soapstone and cast iron cooktop griddles as options with all three of our stove sizes."

Wood stove sales have been increasing dramatically since the beginning of the energy crunch. Over one million wood stoves were sold last year, a sales increase of 800 percent since 1973. An estimated 5-million U.S. households use wood power for heating and cooking, and that number is expected to increase by 20 percent this year as home heating oil inches toward $1.20 per gallon.

Although our grandmothers cooked on wood stoves with ease, today's wood stove owners have to be introduced to cooking with wood. The Garrison combination wood stove is one of the best for cooking because its large flat cooking surface can accommodate several dishes at once. And, although airtight when closed, the doors on this wood stove can be opened, enabling a family to enjoy the fire and to have an indoor winter cookout, complete with toasted hot dogs and marshmallows.

Wood stoves can be used for all types of cooking from reheating leftovers to preparing gourmet entrees. Soups, stews and other slow-cooker recipes are especially adaptable to wood cooking.

Due to the growing interest in cooking on wood stoves, Garrison Stove Works has published a booklet, "Cooking With Wood," containing recipes for soups, stews, entrees, vegetables, breakfast dishes, and desserts.

To receive the cook book, send name, address and zip code along with 50¢ for handling to: "Cooking With Wood," P.O. Box 384, Prudential Center Station, Boston, MA 02199.
